THE CHINESE IN SAVANNAH. - The Advertise says: "The Chinese Emigrant Agency in this city has already received orders for three or four hundred coolies. They will probably reach here in January."

When shall we be able to record a similar fact in Charleston?

HIBERNIAN HALL .- At a recent meeting of the Hibernian Society it was determined to remodel the stage. We are pleased to state that our fellow townsman, Mr. John H. Devereux, has commenced tearing away the old stage and will have its new dress complete in three weeks. We shall give a full description of the work in a few days.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERY .- Bland, Hargrove and Lass:ter, charged with committing the recent five thousand dollar express robbery, appeared in court, in Augusta, on Wednesday. There being no case against Mr. Lassiter, he was honorably discharged: Bland and Hargrove were committed to jail, and will be tried in Effingham County, where the crime was committed. No more of the stolen money has

A NEW PARISH SCHOOL. -The workmen under Mr. John H. Devereux have been busy for some time past in erecting a new parish school on the old Cathedral grounds in Broad-street. The building will be twenty feet front by eighty feet deep, and two stories in height. The interior will be arranged on the most approved style and furnished with school furniture of the latest patent. It will be completed by the 1st of October, and be under the control of the Rev. Dr. D. J. Quigley. Though intended as the parish school of St. John's and St. Finbar's, it will be open to other scholars.

"ARMS AND THE MAN I SING."-It is stated, on good authority, that the Adjutant-General of this commonwealth has succeeded in securing ten thousand breech-loading Springfield rifles and bayonets of the United States army pattern. These, wi h the three thousand Winment, make up the complement for this State. and we may now regard South Carolina as armed and equipped according to law. "The colored troops fought nobly," and the Govern or doubtless breathes more freely when he scans his weapons and selects his warriors.

GERMAN IMMIGRATION .- The Sudlicher Correspondent, of the 12th, has a long editorial in favor of calling a mass meeting of Germans, to form a Gesellschaft on the principle which governs similar societies in other large cities. The objects to be gained are, first, the encouragement of German immigration, and, secondly, the full protection of the immigrant from all harpies, and to furnish him with steady and suitable employment. Though the new regime boasts of an immigration and agricultural bureau, its operations have been confined to talking and writing. The Germans of this city form a large and influential class of the community, and as any action taken by them can but result to the benefit of the State at large. we heartily endorse the suggestion of our German contemporary.

SOUTH CAROLINA SOLDIERS AT JOHNSON'S ISL-AND.—A Confederate soldier who passed through Sumter a few days ago, informed the editor of the Watchman that when he left Johnson's Island, in December last, there were eighty-six Confederate soldiers at that place who had not been home or heard from their friends since the war. Five of these were from South Carolina, and he gave their names as follows : Major Mobley, of Fairfield, about thirty-two years of age, fair maplexion, five feet eight inches or six feet high; Lieutenant Simmons, of Fairfiell; Captain Zeigler and Lieutenant Easterling, of Orangeburg; and Lieutenant R. W. Boyd, of York. He begged that these names should be published, that their friends might learn of their whereabouts and that they were alive. THE MAGAZINES. - The July number of Blackwood contains the following articles: A Year and a Day, part 3; Recollections of Lord Byron; Sketches in Polynesia; Morris' Poem; a New Theory of Earthquakes and Volcanoes; a Story of Eulenberg; the Church Bill in the Lords. The North British Review for July contains the following articles: Dr. Hanna's Life of Christ; Henry Crabb's Robinson's Diary; History of European Morals; Geological Time: Danish Literature—Ludvig Holberg; Memoir of Sir William Hamilton, Bart; the Early History of Man; Walter Savage Landor; and the Irish Church Measure. These are the reprints of the Leopard Scott Publishing Company, and are sold by John Bussell, the agent for this city. Tear Stevenore's Bill. -Alderman Greene's effort to signalize armself in a small way has brought a hornet's nest about his ears. The stevedore's bill is looked upon as an onslaught on the poor man, and having for its object the creation of a monopoly that will benefit but few. Leaving saids this consideration, to is well known that during the dull sesson many of the vessels consigned to this port use the services of their own crew in discharging and reloading. This is done in order to reduce expenses at a time when freights are light, but miles the bill any captain or consignee who does not use the services of a stevedore is liable to a fine. From every standpoint the bill can be

A RADICAL CONGRESSMAN SHOWN UP BY A BADICAL ALDEBMAN.

C. C. Bowen Arraigned as r Thief,

Forger and Murderer.

HIS MATRIMONIAL PROCADILLOES, &c.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In his recent defence of bimself from the the charge of "political treachery," C. C. Bowen was pleased to make me the subject of personal reflections and insinuations, designed to injute my reputation abroad, although they will doubtless have the effect, as emanating from him, to commend me to all honorable men who know his personal history. I propose to reply briefly to those reflections, and show from the record that U. C. Bowen is not a credible witness upon a question of fart. I regret that I am obliged to make this reply during his absence from the city; but the vices, like the virtues, flourish together, and C. C. Bowen has added cowardice to slander by flying from Charleston as soon he had placed the manuscript of his sourrillous article in the hands of the printer.

Referring to Dr. Mackey's removals and appointments in the Customhouse, Bowen states, in his communication, "He (Dr. M.) came home and recommended the removal of ex-Confederate Surgeon Dupont, and the appointment of ex-Confederate Captain T. J. Mackey, the man who was once indicted for violating the neutrality laws in the days of gray-eyed Walker, of Nicaraguan fame; subsequently is said to have made unusually profitable use of a petition for pardon of a mail robber; was well known in Texas. (a State in which there are doubtless worse men than he;) was afterwards some kind of a ranger in the Confederate army, then something else in Texas, then a clerk in the Freedman's Bureau in Washington; for a brief period titular private secretary to Governor Scott, and chief fugleman and destroyer of his brother's chances for senatorialnonors, from which laborious out unprofitable station he was promoted to foreign entry derk in the Charleston Unstombouse. It will be seen that Mr. Bowen charges that l am an "ex-Confederate captain," a charge which, made in connection with his allegation that persons "disqualified" by law were re-tained in the Customhouse by Dr. Mackey, could have been meant only to convey the impression that I am embraced in this class. Yet Bowen knows that my name is included in the very act of Congress by which he himself was relieved of his political disabilities, passed June 26, 1868. I admit that I am an ex-Confederate. I was a captain of engineers in the Confederate army, which I entered as a citizen of South Carolina, in obedience to the accepted political code of my people. In that capacity served actively for near four years as the chief engineer of important military districts: served in many battles on the staff of General Sterling Price-a hero worthy to have worn the white plume of Navarre; and I followed the varying tortunes of that noble chief to their sad but honorable close. I then surrendered my sword, he preferring to die in exile rather than stoop his lofty crest to the conqueror, even though that conqueror represented, as he did, the flag of his country that gave pro tection alike to the victor and the vanquished. In the course of that service, I performed no act unworthy of a good soldier, or a man of honor.

But how stands it with C. C. Bowen, whose name, by a civic fiction, now bears the prefix "Honorable ?"

ne is a Now England man, born and reared in Rhode Island, near the very altar of liberty. He entered the Contederate army as a lieutenant of cavalry, and after an ignominious caree of two years, he was cashiered (as I can show by the official record before me) for the crime of forgery !

It is also true that I was indicted with Gene ral Walker on the charge of violating the neu trality laws of the United States, but I have yet to learn that this fact could detract from my standing as a gentleman. Immediately after my trial and acquittal on that charge, I was appointed by the authorities at Washington as Examiner of United States surveys for Kansas and Nebraska.

I was not a clerk, but the Examiner of Accounts, in the Freedmen's Bureau, and in that capacity I became acquainted with the evidence on which C. C. Bowen was arrested and committed to prison by General Sickles, on the charge of STEALING MONEY from the freedmen. It is true that I was private secretary to Governor Scott, the same gallant soldier and worthy gentleman whose duty it became, as assistant commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau for South Carolina to have Bowen arrested (for STEALING) and to make him, through the military authorities, disgorge a large amount of his ill-gotten gains.

It is true that I am "well known in Texas." In the summer of 1865, as acting United States provest marshal over twenty counties of that state, I arrested many criminals, some of whom were executed for the crime of murder, after a fair and impartial trial, on far less evidence than that adduced to prove that C. C. Bowen murdered Colonel White, by the hands of a hired assassin, in his bedaraom at Georgetown, S. C., in November, 1884. for which bloody deed he escaped punishment, through the flight of his accomplice, after a full confession. He was confined in prison here on that charge, and was released at the general jail delivery made by the Dayled States forces on their entry into Cherieston, in 1865.

This dark but truthful story of Bowen's crimes, as not inconsistent with his ante-war record. He came to this city in 1859 as the head of band of the lowest class of gamblers, and soon signalized his advent by stealing a valuable set of faro checks from an establishment in this city, which checks he sold in New York, where they were recovered by their owner, together with the written proof of Bowen's guilt. This fact I can prove by a "cloud of witnesses." The municipal authorities of this city have been frequently appealed to during the past month by his wife at Louisville, whom he has abandoned, although a worthy woman, to aid her in securing a support from him, while he is living in open infamy with snother in this city.

Bowen charges that I "preside over so-called Union Lesgues, where, for a fee of fitty dollars, he puts through resolutions to slander

It is true that I am president of the Union League of Charleston, the same League that subscribed money, earned by the hard hands of the taboring men who chiefly composed it, to teed Bowin's putative children in this city in 1867, while he was imprisoned in Castle Pinckney on the charge of stelling scharge which the members of the League were led to believe untrue from his plausible representa believe untras from his plausible representa-tions, and earnest protestations of innecessed. The resolutions to which flower reservations are passed to denounce the proposed appointment of his friend, G. W. Clark, as collector of this port and to stigmatuse the political treachery of Sanat * F. A. Sawyer and C. C. Bowen. Surely it did not require "a fee of fifty dollars

A LEAF FROM THE RECORD OF oath, in July, 1868, with having committed the orime of perjury in taking the iron-clad oatha charge which is true.

I have thus briefly glanced at the criminal bistory of this "Mourable Representative from Scuth Carolina." It is to be hoped that justice will yet overtake him,

THE CLERK OF THE COURT'S OFFICE. - This office, which for forty years (by close con putation) has never known a change, has been invaded by the march of improvement, and the tenants have retired to the law court until the agony of paint and whitewash is over. The walls are to be pink and the ceiling blue, in keeping with other portions of the Court house. The clum-y, old-fashioned boxes, which held and concealed the records, are to be replaced by glass cases, easy of access, and so arranged that no time will be lost in searching for papers.

An Absconding SEAMAN. - A seaman who had been regularly shipped on the British bark Fantee, succeeded in secreting himself on the tug that was towing the bark in the stream, and returned to the city. As $40 had been advanced on his pay by the shippers, they demanded the return of this sum from the captain, but the latter refused, as the man was then missing. An appeal was made to Magistrate Mackey, and though there were no officers of the United States Court in the city, a bail writ was taken out and the amount that was advanced refunded by the consignee.

THE CUSTOMHOUSE SPOILS.—The Baltimore Sun's Washington correspondence has the following paragraph : " The Charlesion customhouse war is finally ended. Hon. C. C. Bowen, M. C. from that district, to-day had an interview with Acting Secretary Richardson, and explained to him at length the nature of the trouble between the former collector, Dr. A. G. Mackey, and the present incumbent, Geo. W. Clark, and submitted a list of the new appointments made by Mr. Clark, which the acting secretary promptly confirmed. The number of nominations was about twenty, including the principal deputy collector, Mr. John B. Dennis, vice C. H. Groves, removed. Collector Clark has made a clean sweep of the appointments of his predecessor, and has now possession of the office, with a force of subordinates in full sympathy with himself."

BASE BALL.—The Savannah Base Ball Club leave that city on the Dictator, and are expected to arrive in Charleston to-morrow. They will be the guests of the Carolina Club and the match game will take place on Monday afternoon, at the west end of Broad-street. Though the Carolina's are not over confident, they are willing to bet that the odds will not be so neavy as on the previous game. It is stated that Mazyck's band (colored) will give an entertainment to the Savannah band during their stay. The parado of some of the colored military companies which was to have taken place on Monday has been postponed. Every the visiting club pleasant, and no riotous demonstrations are either feared or expected. The Washington Cornet Band is expected to accompany the Savannah boys.

VESSEL ASHORE.—The Savannah Algertiser says: "The schooner A. M. Fianigan, Captain Collins, from Philadelphia in seven days, bound to Charleston with a cargo of coal went ashore on the tail of the knoll on Monday last. The Flanigan was spoken by a pilot boat, but the captain declined to take a pilot, as he was merely putting in for a harbor. When off Tybee, in rounding to, the keel of the vessel took the bottom, when she swung around and struck the tail of the knoll. As it was blowing pretty fresh from the northeast at the time, the vessel thumped up some distance. On discovering the condition of the vessel the captain immediately hoisted his jack for a pilot, one of whom went on board; and finding it necessary to obtain the services of a steamboat, the captain and pilot came to the city yesferday afternoon for assistance."

IMPROVEMENTS IN TRINITY CHURCH .- The interior of this time-honored sanctuary is now undergoing a complete transformation. The old pews, which were modelled after some antedeluvian pattern and were little more than seats of torture, have been removed and will be replaced by a more modern design, similar to those of the Citadel Square Baptist Church. The aisles will be widened and the floor made level. The present unsightly galleries will give place to a neat and pleasing structure, similar to St. Mary's. The windows will also receive attention and be made to correspond to the general improved appearance of the church. It is expected that it will be fully ten weeks before the work is completed, and the congregation will, in the meantime, worship in the basement chapel. Mr. O. F. Johnstone is the con tractor, and under his skilful management Trinity Church will become an ornament to

MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE PLANTERS' AND MECHANICS' BANK. -A large number of the stockholders of the Planters and Mechanis' Bank met yesterday, to hear a report from the president and directors, and to consider the advisability of the bank resuming active business operatious.

An exhibit from William Allston Pringle, Esq., referee, which was read by the cashier, showed that the affairs of the bank had been managed with great ability. Though laboring under great disadvantages, and having to contend with considerable opposition, the bank was enabled to pay the face value of the bills in circulation, as well as the depositors, and still have a large surplus of assets for the bene-Bt of the stockholders:

After the reading of the exhibit, the roll of rs was called, but a sufficient number did not unswer to their names or by proxy to form a quoram. (twenty-one hundred shares being required for that purpose.) Mr. C. G. Memminger moved that, as it was clearly expedient for the bank to go into operation, it haleft to the president and beard of directors to lake such steps as would further It is generally understood that as will be soon made to the Governor and Comp-troller-General for the benefit of the act of the Legislature enabling banks of the State to rea fine. From every standpoint the bill can be considered on y as an imposition on labor and a blow at that very class of the community who are Alderman Greene's peculiar constituents, and co conspirator, was charged by Bowen, or the bank, and it is desirable of the passence of the passence of the bank, and it is desirable of the bank, and it is desirable of the bank, and it is desirable. Fine it is business will be resumed early in the fall.

AFTEMPTED BURGLARY .- A bold attempt at bbery was made on last Saturday at Mr. J. O. Bradley's store, at Macbeth's Mills, on the Northeastern Bailroad. Mr. Bradley was absent from home, but his wife examined the premises before retiring, and found that the iron key that fastens the window was missing. She immediately notified a trustworthy servant, who secured the windew, and arming himself with a double barrelled gun, awaited the thieves. About eleven o'clock they came to the window, and as the noise was heard, the man inside went out and hailed them. They ran off, when he fired, and was shot at in return, but without damage on either side. Mr. Bradley was the victim of an extensive robbery some time since, and thinks this attempt was made by four colored men who had been loitering around the premises that afternoon, CRUMBS.—Ozias Mathis was tried at Sumter for the murder of a negro woman, and acquitted. The colored people threaten that they will take his life.

Sargent, the well-known magician, has been arrested in Raleigh for an infringement of the lottery law.

There is a general activity in the street department, and Captain Jenks is proving conclusively that the grass which is green and flourishing in the morning is cut down and withered before the close of the day. The street brigade are down ou the grass.

The sidewalk in Calhoun-street, near East Bay, is being improved by a new curb, and the removal of the excrescence of old bricks that wo, 'ld make good people curse.

Two buildings are now being erected on Vendue Rang. Preparations are being made to build on the corner of Laurens and East Bay, A number of private residences and stores are receiving attention, and contractors and builders are commencing to whistle cheerfully at the prospect of the good times coming. The King-street plank road is progressing rapidly. The eclipse has had no effect on the mosquitoes; they evidently thought it was an imposition, and have been biting harder ever since. We are informed from several sources that Lieutenant W. N. Taft, of the police, has been for some time in the practice of drilling squads of sgrees, using for this purpose the Winchester rifles furnished by the Governor

A GANG OF THIEVES BROKEN UP .- Within the last few days the Macon police have arrested two of a gang of negro bandits, organized in that city about three years ago, for the sole purpose of conducting a general robbing, thieving and plundering business in Georgia and neighboring States. Five of the gang have been arrested within the last few months. Their names are Bob Wagnon, Levi Shepherd. Willis Brown, Burwell Rhodes, and Henry Conley, alias Shep Hudgma. They have been nearly all over the States of Georgia and South Carolina, and have perpetrated some of the blackest and most damuable crimes known to the criminal code. Barwell Bhodes, who was arrested in Macon, on Saturday last, acknowledges to have stolen from a jeweller in Charleston, S. C., fifteen watches and a lot of jewerry last month, and it was a portion of this lot of watches and jewelry that was found in his possession at the time of his arrest. He says he sold the halance along the railroad when making his way from Charleston to this city. He admits that he is a member of the gang of villains to which we have referred, and it was by his companions that the police were advised of the presence in Macon of Henry Conley, another member of the gang. Henry had taken a temporary "sit" as waiter at the Lanier House, and as soon as he learned that Colonel Com mings, chief of police, wanted to see him, he bounced out at a back window of the dining room and made for the swamp. Colonel C. immediately procured a horse, and, starting several policemen in different directions to nead off the rascal, gave him hot pursuit on his horse, and he was captured before he got precaution has been taken to make the stay of to the woods. When caught he had a few days' provisions concealed about him. Henry once belonged to Mr. Bart Hudgins, of Jones County, and is the chap that stole a male from that gentleman last month.

The Macon Telegraph says: "Wiley Thomas and Lewis Travis, two more of the gang, and about the worst in the lot, are now figuring in South Carolina; but it is believed that Travis has been arrested in Charleston, and is now in all there for stealing a fine watch. It will be remembered that at the time of his arrest, the captain of the police in that city addressed a letter to Colonel Cummings, notifying him of the arrest, and describing the negro and property. Burwell Rhodes says Wiley and Lewis are both in Charleston, and that they perpetrated a robbery, not long since, in Aiken, South Carolina.

His list will be found to include something to suit every taste, and it seems to us a marvel how he can afford to send his books by mail over the country, post-paid, at the ridiculously low prices named.

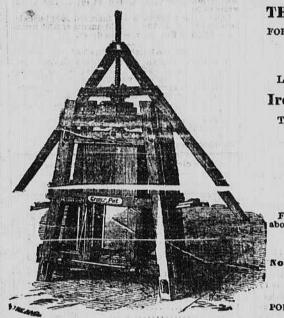

Corron Gins and Corron Presses. - We could refer those interested in cotton planting to the advertisement of Mesers. Huger & Bavenel, which appears in to-day's issue. At this season those not already supplied with the means of preparing their crops for market are usually looking around to obtain the necessary nachines for so doing. The short-cotton planters will perceive that they offer an excellent saw gin that had an established reputation before the war in Georgia under the name of the Clemon's gin, but more improved and now called the Georgia gin. They have also, Grey's Patent Labor Saving Cotton Pressone that combines all the latest improvements. and is strongly recommended to Southern planters. It has always given satisfaction There has been no improvement to machinery more important to the planter than the small but powerful cotton presses that have been introduced since the war. With one mule, or sufficient hand power, a heavy bale can be easily packed. Messys. Huger and Rayenel, No. 66 East Bay, are the agents of these and other patented labor-saving machines.
